

2022 Series 3 Course E Updated 11 August 2022

Title Whistleblowers: Honoured, Vilified or Forgotten?

Dates Thursdays 25 August – 29 September 2022

Time 2.15 pm – 4.15 pm

Venue Leith Bowling Club, 2 Duke Street, North Dunedin

- Convenors Clare Robertson and Annette Riley Email: robertsoncl37@gmail.com Phone: 477 4398 Mobile: 027 648 8850
- Developers Annette Riley and Clare Robertson

Course fee $45 (please do not pay until you receive an invoice)

"We don't remember their names, sometimes we don't even know they existed, but whistleblowers have exposed some of the biggest scandals in history, and yet whistleblowers, despite their sacrifices, are often forgotten or even worse they are vilified" says American bioethicist Professor Carl Elliott. Even Dunedin has had its own whistleblowing events. The consequences for both parties can be huge but the question to be answered is "Can a modern democratic society function well without them?"

All applications must be received by Thursday 28 July 2022. You will receive a response to your application by Monday 8 August 2022.

Please contact the Programme Secretary courses@u3adunedin.org.nz, phone 467 2594 with any queries.

Whistleblowers: Honoured, Vilified or Forgotten?

Updated 11 August 2022

25 August Self-respect and professional exile: the moral landscape of whistleblowing -Dr Simon Walker, Lecturer, Bioethics Centre, University of Otago Workplace whistleblowers and the law: the legal issues -Dr Dawn Duncan, Lecturer, Faculty of Law, University of Otago 1 September A history of whistleblowers at Facebook (via Zoom) -Professor Ali Knott, School of Engineering and Computer Science, Victoria University of Wellington 8 September Blowing the whistle on Aurora -Richard Healey, Electrical engineer, former employee of Aurora Energy Exposing sexual harassment: Whistleblowing in the culture of victim blaming -Dr Yuki Watanabe, Lecturer, Sociology, Gender Studies and Criminology, University of Otago 15 September Soldiers and spies: the cost of telling the truth -Stephen Davis, Investigative reporter, author of Operation Trojan Horse, journalism educator 22 September From respectable clinician to scientific fraudster and anti-vaxxer: Andrew Wakefield's dubious legacy -Emeritus Professor Gareth Jones, Department of Anatomy, School of Biomedical Sciences, University of Otago How investigative journalism and whistleblowing grew up together -Professor Donald Matheson, Head, Media and Communication Department, University of Canterbury 29 September Blowing the whistle on sweated labour: the Reverend Rutherford Waddell and the great anti-sweating campaign, 1880–1900 -Associate Professor John Stenhouse, History, Division of Humanities, University of Otago "Everyone does it!": individual conscience, group-think and the many facets of teaching professionalism to medical students -Dr Simon Walker, Lecturer, Bioethics Centre, University of Otago