

The Dunedin Writers & Readers Festival

The Dunedin Writers & Readers Festival is a not-for-profit group that is passionate about bringing top authors to Dunedin, New Zealand's only UNESCO City of Literature.

Held every two years, the festival offers a vibrant guest list of New Zealand and international authors and this year, the programme of events will span fiction, poetry, drama, children's literature, mental health, feminism, politics, history, te reo Māori, humour, outdoor adventuring, crime and illustration.

The international line-up at this year's festival (May 9-12) includes bestselling Irish novelist John Boyne and Australian Children's Laureate Morris Gleitzman. The full programme will be announced on March 20.

For more information and updates go to www.dunedinwritersfestival.co.nz

Laura Hewson
Events & Comms Coordinator
Dunedin Writers & Readers Festival
0211 007 182