

Continuing Education
Workshop 2021

Letterpress printing by hand

Invented in the mid-15th century, letterpress printing's recent revival as an artisan form is flourishing where printing presses survive. This course offers a rare opportunity to work with experts to explore the technique and its artistic properties.

Three short courses

Course 1: Letterpress for Librarians

Course 2: Letterpress for Beginners

Course 3: Letterpress for Intermediate

January – February 2021

(see our website for actual course dates)

Indecent exposure: The adult's guide to surviving in a world of fake news.

Courses are for: HR professionals, company representatives, teachers or senior citizens

Understand how your brain can fool you and how the camera lies. Learn how you can avoid being taken in by the internet, discover reliable and trustworthy sources of information, understand political propaganda and deal with conspiracy theories. Learn how to hold a debate within your company on becoming an ethical consumer and sharer of information online, and include this in a potential code of conduct. Play the fake news game – with prizes.

February 2021

(see our website for actual course dates)

For further information or to register:
otago.ac.nz/courses/continuingeducation