SIX JOURNEYS

Oral history is a relatively new phenomenon in Pakeha culture, though common in some other cultures. Six (mostly) members of U3A Dunedin will present a brief insight into aspects of their lives focusing on those events which they feel have been pivotal for them. Contributors have been chosen to represent a balance of experience in as many ways as possible. Each presentation will be followed by the usual tea/coffee break and then by discussion at which aspects may be explored and developed further. It is expected that there will be interactive participation by those enrolled in the course.

In a seventh session, David McKenzie will present an epilogue in which he will draw the threads of the six presentations together and explore differences.

The Lecture Programme

(Note: no title has been given to the sessions; this is to enable contributors to "paint on a blank canvas")
