It is already clear that by then the population structures of the World in general, and New Zealand in particular, will differ markedly from what they have been historically. This course will cover the means by which we can forecast populations and the likely results, and will go on to discuss the implications of the forecasts for life in 2040.

All applications must be received by Thursday 27 April 2023. You will receive a response to your application by Monday 8 May 2022.
