This group is for people who enjoy watching classic and contemporary cinema.

The emphasis is on 'auteur' cinema, that is, movies created by a writer/director who is able to maintain a high level of control over the many aspects of film production.

But at the same time, this group emphasizes input as to selection from all members of the group – with the person selecting a film giving a brief introduction; and general discussion of the film following the screening.

The group is limited to eight members.
